AT LAST the deep mystery surrounding the Lindbergh kidnap-ing case has been penetrated.
Bruno Richard Hauptmann, himself the father of a 10-month old son, is under arrest, a chain of damning circumstantial evidence tending to prove him guilty of part in a crime that shocked the entire world. The law has a way of making prisoners talk. Startling facts, undisclosed at this writing, will likely come from the lips of Hauptmann.
Swift and well-deserved justice will be dealt Hauptmann and any other persons implicated if proven guilty. Again a truth is presented to all criminals. The far-reaching eye of the law never sleeps—crime does not pay.

CONGRATULATIONS to Walter Lyle, alert young filling station attendant, who was instrumental in putting police of on Haupt-mann's trial. When Hauptmann presented a ten-dollar gold certificate note in payment of gasoline, Lyle noted his automobile license number, and marked on the note.
Intelligent Americans are to be found in every walk of life.

SUMMER is refusing to relinquish its hold on San Antonio. Despite the official arrival of autumn, and the weatherman's prediction of a "further" most any day, temperatures have ranged about the high 90's. Rastus you thrifting rascal, fetch another mint julep.

THE Advanced Flying School of Kelly Field will hold graduation exercises at the field on October 13th. A class of 76 flyers will receive their wings at this time.
Included in the list are 2 officers of the Mexican army, who have been in training at Kelly Field for the past year, and will return to Mexico.

Ghosts of the past: Firemen report two fires caused by illicit stills being operated in San Antonio.

DILLINGER bluffed his way out of a Crown Point, Ind. jail with a wooden gun in his day, but when two of his gangster pals, awaiting execution, tried to bluff their way out of the Ohio penitentiary with guns carved from cakes of soap they found the ruse didn't work.
One was slain and the other critically wounded by prison guards.
Successful "pop-gun" escapes depend, it seems, on whether the authorities can be "reached" in advance of a bravado act like Dillinger pulled at Crown Point.

SAN ANTONIO'S first annual tropical fish exhibition, sponsored by the Tropical Fish Fanatics' association has created much interest on display at the museum. More than 1000 tropical fish, some rare specimens taken from private collections were shown. Crescent Fish farms of New Orleans were among the out-of-state exhibitors.

THE 1934 World Series baseball contest begins Wednesday, October 3rd. This is mentioned as warning to salesmen who might call on big business men during this session. Make your appointments for morning hours. Afternoons the executive will be strictly in conference—feet atop desk, listening to a play-by-play account of the game over the radio. Woe to the order taker who intrudes—especially if his favorite team is on the losing end.

EVERY parent who takes an interest in the welfare of their child should consider membership in the Parent-Teacher Association an obligation as well as a mark of honorable distinction in their community. The intimate association between mother and teacher afforded by P. T. A. meetings will prove a valuable aid to the parent in assisting the child prepare school work at home. Every member has a voice school affairs. Enroll during the state-wide membership campaign now in progress. The mothers of your child's school chums are anxiously awaiting the privilege of welcoming you as a fellow club member.

THE Texas Predatory Animal Control Ass'n. reports a total 116 bob cats, 73 wolves, and 4 mountain lions captured by trappers.
Since Webb county, on the Rio Grande, began a program of radio control 3 years ago, a total of 2,758 bobcats, 14,447 coyotes, 82 mountain lions, and 10 ocelots have been trapped or killed by government trappers.

FROM Brockton, Mass., comes report of 1000 high school students going on a strike over a 15 minute difference in closing hour, and controversy with the principal concerning a 15 minute study period in each hour. In the days of grandpa's "learning" the "striking" would take place in the wood shed—and would be accomplished with a strap applied with good results to the posterior part of the anatomy.

GOV. CONNER ANNOUNCES REDUCTION IN STATE AD VALOREM TAX FOR YEAR

Cut From 8 to 5 Mills—$1,450,000 Sliced From Mississippi Property Taxes—State's Cash Surplus will Be $869,000, Says Treasurer.

Jackson, Miss., Sept. 25.—Mississippi's property tax levy for the state government for the fiscal year beginning October 1, will be fixed at 5 mills, a reduction of 3 mills or 37 1/2 per cent, it was announced tonight by Governor Sennett Conner.

The appreciable reduction in taxes will be made official by the mere formality of the issuance of a proclamation by the governor, which will be done within the next day or so, in accordance with the provisions of the "flexible" property tax which authorizes a reduction as much as 50 per cent if treasury receipts warrant such action be taken.

Similar reductions in county, municipal and other lesser political subdivision tax bills could be affected through organization of the local governmental machinery, Governor Conner pointed out, and it is the general belief in political circles that the Legislature will be in extraordinary session by November 1, tackling the reform measures to come thru a constitution convention with more than a fair chance of victory for the governor.

$1,450,000 Savings Governor Conner announced his intention to cut the ad valorem levy after Treasurer Lewis S. May, Auditor Joe S. Price and Chairman Alf Stone of the Tax Commission had certified that the treasury would have a cash surplus of at least $869,- 000 on December 31, 1935, even with the reduced property tax levy. The surplus, it was declared, may exceed $1,000,000.

The 3-mill reduction will effect a saving of $1,450,000 to the tax payer in 1935. Homestead exemptions already have brought about a reduction of $350,000 to the taxpayers, making the total reduction for all classes of taxpayers $1,800,000 for the current year or $1,550,000 on real and personal property, other than that of public utilities.

In addition to these tax savings, it is brought out that assessments have shrunk so much since 1931 that revenues from the property tax, together with the 3-mill reduction and the homestead exemptions, will be $3,- 502,800 less than was the case three years ago.

Conner Statement
"Property taxes may be reduced either by lowering the tax rate or by reducing the assessment valuations," says Governor Conner in his announcement of the millage reductions. "During the first year of our administration property assessments were reduced 22 per cent under the act of 1930, the latest preceding general assessment year. The amount of property taxes actually paid by the state government in 1933 was $3,902,848.91 compared with $5,967,311.25 paid in 1930.

"In addition to the reduction of 37 1/2 per cent now being made in the property tax levy, the estimated assessment of all property for 1934 shows a reduction of 34 1-3 per cent under the assessments of 1930. In addition to this 37 1/2 per cent reduction in the tax levy and a 34 1-3 per cent reduction in the assessments, the homestead exemption authorized in 1934 makes a further reduction of about $350,000 in property taxes to be paid the state this year.

"These reductions are especially significant when we bear in mind that our budget for 1934-35 provides for the payment out of current revenues of all maturing bonds, which amount to $2,031,000, and all interest which amounts to $1,477,476.25, or a total debt service expense of $6,208,476.25. All bond and interest maturities for 1932-33 were paid out of current revenues.

"This administration will discharge by payment out of current revenues more state bonds than were retired
by payment out of current revenues in all the years from 1900 down to this administration. From 1900 to 1932 no state bonds were paid in fact from current revenues.

"This policy of renewing our obligations has brought us to the point where more than 25 cents of every dollar of our state budget goes to debt service charges, and reduction can come only by application of current funds to these debts. If we followed the policy of renewing our bonds, as has been done generally in the past, we could eliminate the 8-mill state tax entirely."

Expected $1,000,000 Surplus Governor Conner declared that instead of current expenses exceeding current revenues, "as had occurred in 24 of the 30 years immediately preceding this administration," the Conner administration closed its first biennial period with a cash surplus in the general fund of more than $1,000,000.

There will be a parade led by the College Band Saturday afternoon, starting at 4:15.
An invitation is extended to all to take part.

SENATOR-DESIGNATE BILBO AND SENATOR HARRISON CONFER

Held Parley at Jackson Tuesday—Both Decline
To Discuss Topics Discussed

Senator Pat Harrison conferred with his new colleague, Senator-elect Theodore G. Bilbo, at Jackson, Tuesday but declined to discuss the nature of the conversation other than to admit that the legislative program to come before Congress at the January session was discussed.

Both men emerged from the conference wearing broad smiles and indicated the conference had been a friendly one. Harrison was one of the first to congratulate Bilbo following his victory at Tuesday's primary over Senator Hubert D. Stephens.

Also today the senior senator conferred with a group of farm extension workers connected with the AAA program, headed by Director L. A.
Olson and Assistant Director E. H.
White, who have been in charge of administering the Bankhead Cotton Control Act in Mississippi.

Senator Harrison expressed his emphatic approval of the Bankhead cotton bill and said he opposed any attempt to set it aside at this time.

Hugh L. White, Columbia capitalist and industrial promoter, who was defeated for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in 1931 by Governor Sennett Conner and who is being mentioned as a possible candidate next summer for the same office, also conferred with Harrison during the morning.

White, however, denied that his visit had any political significance, declaring it was "purely social."

URGENT BANKING REFORMS

Declaring our present banking organization "outmoded and archaic," and that the collapse of many institutions was a direct result of mismanagement, the Senate Banking and Currency committee insists that far-reaching and basic reform is necessary.

Flowers and Books Combined at New Bay St. Louis Library

Among the lovely things of life books and flowers seem to go together and perhaps that is why friends of the library come bearing armfuls of peonies or zinnias as well as dusty volumes of Shakespeare or well-thumbed books by Zane Grey.

Faithfully, twice each week, comes Mrs. Charles M. of Washington street with her offering of flowers and eager to read the new books as they come in. Young Miss Roberta Horlock has given eleven of the "Little Leather Library" books.

The "Story Hour," a weekly feature at the library, and to which the juvenile public has a standing invitation has been changed back to the old hour of 3:15 Thursdays as usual, so come on over from school.

FOR EMERGENCY

Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, hopes that the government can soon discontinue its lending policy but believes that the machinery already set up should be retained for use in emergencies.

SEES NO NEW TAX

Pat Harrison, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, believes that new taxes may be avoided at the next session of Congress but doubts that the "nuisance taxes" can be dropped.

HELPS DRY STATES

Internal revenue collectors are making strenuous efforts to collect the special excise tax of $1,000 on intoxicating liquors or sell intoxicating liquors in violation of State laws.
Information as to those paying the tax will be available to state and local authorities.

PECULIAR

The Consumers' Advisory Board of the NRA wants to abolish misleading and confusing terms in connection with the sale of various commodities. Symbols and terms now in use are highly confusing. For example, "U. S. No. 1" cheese might be mistaken for top quality whereas it is the third grade. "Fancy" apples are top grade but "fancy" brooms are of second grade.

JAP ADMIRAL

Rear Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto, of Japan, will pass through the United States next month on route to London for preliminary naval talk with the British. No naval conferences will be held with American officials as the Japanese will proceed from Seattle to New York for immediate sailing.

BROTHER OF BAY RESIDENT VANISHES FROM COAST HOME

George L. Bosarge, Grocery Employee at Ocean Springs Last Seen Sunday

Mississippi coast police were requested to search for George L.
Bosarge, 31-year-old Ocean Springs resident, who was reported last seen at Gulfport late Sunday afternoon, it was disclosed at Gulfport Tuesday afternoon.

Bosarge is a brother of Jack Bosarge, resident of Bay St. Louis, and locally employed, and is well known along the Coast.

Mrs. Bosarge, wife of the missing man, told police at Gulfport that she and her husband and their two small sons left Ocean Springs Sunday to visit Mr. Bosarge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Armond Bosarge, at their home on Reynoir street. He left the home about noon, Mrs. Bosarge told the officers, but she supposed he was "just going down the street." He wore no coat or hat and did not have over $4 in money, she said.

Mrs. Bosarge said she returned to Ocean Springs and packed their household preparatory to moving to Biloxi, where Mr. Bosarge was employed in a grocery store. When he failed to return Sunday night she said she assumed he was working at the store and felt no apprehension.
It was only after he failed to return Monday night that she experienced uneasiness and decided to notify the police, she said.

Mrs. Bosarge was reported seen at Gulfport between 2 and 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon going in the direction of the pier and again about 6 o'clock in the vicinity of the Union Station with a group of sailors from the U. S. S. Milwaukee in port here.
No trace of him has been found since that time, Mrs. Bosarge said.

Mrs. Bosarge could assign no reason for her husband's disappearance.
She described him as a "man of regular habits."

CAPITOL ACTIVITIES.

(By Walker Wood, Secretary of State)

THE opening of the 1934-35 session of the University of Mississippi is set for September 17, according to W. H. Smith, executive secretary of the University and College Board. The State Teachers College at Hattiesburg and Cleveland will open at approximately the same time. State College at Starkville, and M. S. C. W. at Columbus are expected to open about September 12.
All these institutions are expecting a material increase in the enrollment.

The Federal Re-Employment Agency opened offices in Jackson about one year ago, since which time approximately 250,000 have registered applications for employment, thruout the counties of Hinds, Rankin, Zazo, Simpson, Copiah, and Madison. Mr. Dees, the manager, estimates that 25,000 approximately have been placed on public works and highways jobs during the past year.

William H. Bell, native Mississippi negro, who has been connected with the A. & M. College for negroes in South Carolina, has been elected president of the Alcorn A. & M. College for negroes, to succeed L. J.
Rowan, deceased.

Charter activities have taken on new life as revealed by the records in the Secretary of State's office. A total of 53 charters came into the office for record or filing during the month of August, which is unusually heavy for any of the months of the past few years. The total capitalization of state charters amounted to $518,500.00, while the authorized capital of twelve foreign charters amounted to the enormous sum of $315,941,000.00.

The books of the State Treasurer on September 1, revealed a cash balance to the credit of the general fund of $2,784,361.00. These figures do not include "special funds," such as highway funds, school funds and other items.

The case of the Mississippi Railroad Commission against all Telephone Companies operating in Mississippi, seeking a reduction of charges for exchange service, was continued until the November meeting of the Commission.

When the present road construction program in Mississippi is completed this fall, our state will have 697 miles of hard-surfaced road on Federal and secondary routes, states the State Highway Department.

ROOSEVELT SPEAKS

President Roosevelt will address the opening session of a two-day conference, called to meet in Washington on September 28th, to plan the fourth annual human need drive in behalf of depression victims.

SPRINGHILL BADGERS TO PLAY OPENING GAME OF SEASON SUNDAY 2:30

New Stanislaus Coach, Glover, to Make Debut — Keen Rivalry Between Both Teams

ESTIMABLE LADY DIES IN SLEEP

Mrs. Guido O. Korndorfer, Of Natchez and Bay St.
Louis Summer Resident Found Dead

Mrs. Guido O. Korndorfer, resident of Natchez, and a regular summer resident with her family to Bay St. Louis for the past number of years, was found to have passed away during the earlier morning hours when a member of the family approached her bed Friday morning.
Examining physicians expressed the opinion that Mrs. Korndorfer must have passed away while in her sleep at about 4 o'clock that morning.

Ill over a long period of time, while the news of her death was received as a profound shock, the fact she had been long ailing it was not in a sense a surprise. With her splendid courage and christian fortitude, Mrs. Korndorfer bore her discomfort in a manner that she wished to give no concern to her immediate loved ones and friends. A woman of education and culture, one who was noted not only for her religious zeal, she was also known for her vast charities. Her deeds were numerous and golden. Her religion of the church was backed by a consistent daily life of service for others and ever ready to administer to their happiness and welfare.

Before her marriage Mrs. Korndorfer was Miss Mary Brady, a native and one time resident of New Orleans where she married the late Guido O. Korndorfer, who, at one time was engaged in the cotton business in that city. Later they moved to Natchez where he continued his business pursuit to a degree above the average point of success.

Residing many years in Natchez, where the beautiful and spacious family home, is a center for many friends, a place of well-nigh proverbial hospitality and where none have visited without enjoying the genuineness of lavish reception.

An ardent Catholic, Mrs. Korndorfer practiced not only the virtues of a true christian and gave freely to her church and lived by her faith, but she was generous and ever tolerant. Her good work was vast and to an extent that never will be known.

The remains were prepared by the Fahey Undertaking Company and taken over to the local funeral home.
That evening a hearse from Natchez came to take the body back to the Korndorfer home where it was exposed and viewed by many, people who had called to pay tribute to the worth of the deceased and in respect to her memory.

Funeral took place Sunday morning and interment was in the family plot at the Natchez cemetery.
Pallbearers were E. A. Seudmore, Henry Carson, B. C. Jordan, A. C.
Berdon, Sr., T. V. Wensel, George P.
Chamberlain, Louis Brown and Parnell Burns.

Immediate survivors of Mrs. Korndorfer are two sons, Earl and Guido; three daughters, Mrs. Thomas Caldwell, Mrs. F. Stonaker, Mrs. Daniel Grady and twelve grandchildren.
Also surviving, a son-in-law, Mr. Mc-Kenna, husband of a daughter lately deceased. Mr. Korndorfer passed away two or three years since.

Passing away of this estimable lady is chronicled with much sorrow.
Her death is noted with wide-spread regret. The family have the sympathy of friends and acquaintances of both Natchez and Bay St. Louis and over a wide area of two states as well.

BOYCOTTS UNWISE

Boycotts are economically unwise in the opinion of Secretary of State Cordell Hull. He says that since this country sells more abroad since it buys, such measures prove more costly to this country than to the nation boycotted.

MEETING S. J. A. PARENTS' CLUB

Regular meeting of St. Joseph's Parents' Club will be held Friday, October 5, at 2:30 o'clock P. M. at the convent. All mothers and others interested are urged to join and be present.

The longed-for whistful will be heard at 2:30 sharp on the Colleg-Green Sunday afternoon opening the 1934 football season with the St.
Stanislaus Rockchaws and the Springhill College Baby Badgers as the big attraction.
This game will mark the fifth annual game between these schools.
To date Springhill has not won a game from the Rockchaws. The Indian sign has been working for four consecutive years. This year with a new coach and a more formidable team Springhill has hopes of turning the tables.

"Wop" Glover Makes Debut.

This game will mark the debut of Harry "Wop" Glover as Coach for the Rockchaws. The last time he pranced upon this field was wearing a Rockchaw uniform himself, that was back in 1928.

Coach Glover is not making any predictions for his charges. He is no pre-game prophet. He says the boys are ready, and everything has been done to make for co-ordination and timing, which means so much to a team.

He is well satisfied with the promises of the squad during the preliminary work, now it's up to the team to perform.

New Coach With Springhill

The Baby Badgers also boast of a new coach in Earl Smith, former star with Abilene University with Wallace Wade. Little is known of the Mobile outfit except that they have a formidable forward wall and a fleet-footed backfield as usual. Last year two of their linemen were chosen as among the all-Prep among the schools of Mobile, and both of them are on the squad this year.

From the line-up of squads in practice during the past two weeks the following will probably start off the game. Left end, John Heath, Left tackle, Frank Bonura; left guard, Billy App; Center, Jas. Gre-venburg; Right guard, V. J. Gianelli; End, Charley Flink; Quarter back, Frank Fager; D. half, Percy Stack-lum; L. half, Percy Garriga; and Full back, Henry Borne.

Others who will be sure to see plenty of action are: Billy Quinn, Ives-vich, Cripps, Billy Hoge, Ed Heath, Eddie Heath, Jack Sandoz, Eddie Ryan, Gene Monti, Pedro Butress, Edwin Guidry, Iggy Defelice, Jimmy Duggan, and Dick Moustier.

Women of Aaron Academy Form Civic Club With Marked Accomplishment

A meeting of the women of Aaron Academy was called on Sept. 17, at 3:30 P. M., twenty members responded.

A civic improvement club was formed and committees appointed.
The purpose of the club is social as well as to raise funds for improving school buildings, assist in equipping lunch rooms and responding to any urgent call for any type of humane and civic work. A second meeting was held on Sept. 24, and nine new members enrolled. Much enthusiasm was shown and many thanks are due the committee which already has a neat sum realized from a box supper.

Another interesting program is planned for an early date and the ladies are 100 per cent for the betterment of the community and are doing some very splendid constructive work.

Bro. Lambert, Former SSC President, Re-Appointed Principal

Brothers at the College were notified during the week that Brother Lambert had been reappointed for another term of three years as Provincial of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart in the United States.

Brother Lambert recently visited Bay St. Louis on his way back from the East where he had presided over retreats in New Jersey.

Brother Lambert has a host of friends in Bay St. Louis, due to his long stay here as President and Vice President of St. Stanislaus College.
He is expected to make his official visit to the classes in the very near future. At present he is at St. Aloysius in New Orleans.

EMPLOYMENT

August showed a gain of 15,000 in industrial employment and 30,000 more workers on Federal and State projects, according to a Bureau of Labor report.

UNREST IN RELIGION

THE unrest which disturbs the world in many ways is evident in the field of religion. For some reason there have occurred attacks on organized religion in several of the larger nations of the world.

Those who are inclined to study such phenomena point out that in Russia anti-religionists seem to have control, that Germany is in a grapple between the old forms and a new cult, that Spain exhibits a distinctly anti religious sentiment and that conditions in Mexico are extremely unfavorable to organized religion that has exercised great influence there for years.

It is no explanation of the condition in these countries to say that the entire world is seething that men and women are disturbed and questioning the established order. Certainly this is true to some extent but men and women in the past have remained faithful to their religious beliefs in the face of similar unrest.

ALASKA AND SECRETARY SEWARD

THERE has been a fire at Nome, Alaska. A fire is likely to occur almost anywhere, but the amount of the loss is interesting. It was a million dollars. A town that can have a million dollar fire can hardly be said to be a jumping-off place. When Sec'y. Seward of Mr. Lincoln's cabinet secured Alaska by a payment of seven million dollars or so, the purchase was referred to as "Seward's Folly." If Mr. Seward has knowledge of what has taken place in Alaska with the passage of the years, he must be indulging in the proverbial last laugh. Incidentally, the U. S. revenue cutter, plying the Mississippi sound and in other years so frequently noted weighing anchor off Bay St. Louis in the vicinity of the old Pon or lightship wreck, was named the Seward, in compliment to Mr. Lincoln's secretary of State. How many of The Echo readers remember this?

THE LINDBERGH KIDNAPER (?)

THE world is unanimous in the hope that the kidnaper and murderer of the Lindbergh baby has been apprehended; that the party now in the toils of the law, if he be guilty, will receive the fullest penalty. Not only in punishment, not only in principle alone but as the living example it might serve in order such crime may not be repeated in other place and time. The country was shocked to a man at the time of the disappearance of the child of our world-wide hero and wife.

Now there appears to be a convincing clue every right-thinking and right-hearted person hopes will end the long chase for the guilty and that justice will triumph.

OUTLOOK FOR GAS BRIGHT.

SINCE The Echo has agitated the subject of gas for Bay St. Louis it is interesting to note two propositions are about to be made to the Commission Council, one from Mississippi and the other from Louisiana. The Council members rightfully, will give both propositions full consideration from all angles in order that a franchise may be had to the best advantage of both city and consumers.

The Mayor and commissioners are alert to the interest of the public. They are as anxious for the piping of gas into Bay St. Louis as anybody, but it must not be done at an expense that we will have to pay dear at a later time. We feel sure that in time gas will be piped hither and every interest of the public safeguarded.

PREVENTING COLDS

THE annual economic loss that comes to the American people every year through the common cold cannot be estimated but any citizen of Hancock county who has suffered the inconveniences that attend this malady will be interested in any method of avoiding an attack. Tests made by several scientific workers seem to show that codliver oil, taken regularly, will do much to aid the individual from "catching" colds. Other readers of The Sea Coast Echo may know of other ways to escape colds. Our own opinion is that proper personal cleanliness, adequate rest and a complete diet will make most people immune from the attacks of this too common nuisance.

In the long run your little boy is going to live his own life; why not try to guide him rather than direct him.

DELAY COST LIVES

AMONG the startling facts brought out in the inquiry into the fire which destroyed the steamer Morro Castle with the loss of more than one hundred lives was that hesitancy and delay contributed to the loss of human life.

Still unexplained, it has been brought out that the final message for help was not sent for sometime after the fire was discovered. When the radio officer received instructions the very room in which he sat was on fire. Already the operator had heard messages in the air about a ship on fire off the Jersey Coast.

Whether this delay in sending out the SOS was due to the hesitancy of the acting captain of the ship or to the failure of the messenger to deliver the authorization to the radio operator has not yet been determined but it should be by all means. Was the captain mistaken in his judgment as to the danger or was he trying to save the owners from paying salvage? Or was the assistant radio officer, about whom there is some strange testimony, acting queerly in refusing to carry the proper order to the radio operator?

Another delay seems to have occurred in the launching of life boats from the steamer President Cleveland when it arrived on the scene—delay which the officers immediately under the captain of the vessel assert meant death to some of those struggling in the water. These junior officers publicly at the hearing criticized the failure of their superior in taking so long to put life boats out and publicly declared that they did not care to serve on any vessel under him any longer.

Already the loss of life in this terrible oceanic disaster has stimulated a demand for additional precautions. The Federal Government will probably ask Congress to enact various measures designed to effect more efficiently the safety of those travelling on the sea in American vessels.

Merchants wise advertise to tell the buyer where to buy.

VALUE OF NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

IT IS SELDOM that the American public has more kindly upon a challenging British yacht than upon the Endeavor. The good will that is manifested grew in no small measure out of the friendly and sportsman-like conduct of Sir Thomas Lipton, who visited our shores upon a similar errand a few years ago, but the geniality of Sir Thomas Lipton was not the only thing that counted. His face and his product were well known. Without persistent advertising, he would have been just another visiting Englishman. The home-town merchant should note that for him the way is open to a success which differs from that of Mr. Lipton in degree perhaps, but not in nature. The advertising columns of The Echo in which this paragraph appears are available for legitimate advertising, through a payment which is small, compared with the benefit which accrues. Mollere and others who have tried the advertising in columns of The Echo as a newspaper medium have found it an investment well worth the while. The test of this is they always come back. Advertising schemes come and go, cheap and tawdry, of flashy and gaudy, but the established reputation and its backing by many subscribers scattered over the entire local territory, cannot be discounted. Nothing takes the place of persistent and intelligent newspaper advertising.

What's become of the old Bay St. Louis spirit that we used to hear so much about?

WHERE BUYING BEGINS

THE theory that our economic debacle was caused by overproduction of goods in this country receives a serious setback when one considers certain statistics.

For example one survey points out that twenty out of every one hundred homes in this country have no kitchen sinks thirty-nine out of each hundred have no electric lights, and sixty of each hundred have no refrigerator whatever.

If these figures are correct, one may reasonably assume that statistics on homes in the rural areas of the country would show an even worse condition, inasmuch as it is probable that city homes, on the average, are better provided with modern conveniences. This being the case, manufacturers of equipment for kitchens might find a tremendous market for their products if American farmers are assisted toward a reasonable prosperity.

While the above paragraphs discuss the condition of kitchens in America, similar surveys have disclosed an equal field for the sale of other household furnishings. In fact, recent housing surveys indicate that millions of American homes require immediate repairs.

The truth of the matter is that there exists a latent demand for every type of product sold and that if the average citizen is restored to anything like a normal income, the United States will witness a remarkable buying boom.

WE CAN RAISE RUBBER

HOW many people know that raw rubber can be produced in the United States?

Experiments show that plant rubber may be derived from the goldenrod, which thrives in almost every American State.

The Federal Government has been conducting tests and it finds that one of the species found in this country compares favorably in its acre yield of rubber to others. However, as long as rubber is selling around fifteen cents a pound it is not possible to produce it under present processes to compete with this price.

Should the price of rubber go up, as it did in 1923 to 1927, the rubber from our own goldenrod could be produced profitably. In the meantime further experiments are proceeding and the present process may be improved. If this country could produce its own rubber it would mean saving many dollars which now go abroad for the raw material used in our automobile tires and for many other purposes.

MERELY THEORETICAL

By GEORGE E. SCHILLING

EFFICIENCY

THE EPIC plan has been enthusiastically adopted by a convention of Democrats in California. Its success, if it is approved by the voters, must depend on the efficiency with which such a large organization is managed. Business, of old-fashioned economists, say, at a socialistic scheme cannot be efficient, because men will do good work only for personal profits. Socialists and Thorstein Veblen declare that big business is not efficient, because it does not try to be. It is trying, not to manage itself for the general good, but for profit, which is a very different thing. The EPIC plan may give us our first concrete test of the two propositions.

In discussing the subject before the trial is made, a very sharp distinction needs to be drawn between small scale and large scale work. No question has been raised as to the efficiency of small scale business. The local hardware dealers, druggists and other retailers are not only pretty good fellows, as a class, but they know their own business fairly well, or they would go broke. So long as this class dominated business we managed quite satisfactorily. There is no lack, in this country, of men, and also women, who are fully competent to manage a store or factory, just as there is no lack of men who can repair an automobile, build a house, keep a set of books, or edit a local newspaper.

The criticism of this column and of many millions of other Americans is directed at the large scale and complex thing that we usually call "Wall Street." Several lists have been drawn up, notably one by former Ambassador Gerard, each list naming fifty to one hundred men who dominate American business. The lists all include such names as Morgan, Rockefeller, Ford, Mellon, Inull, Wiggin and other millionaires. A recent report states that two hundred corporations do half of the corporate business of the country, the other half being divided among the hundreds of thousands of others. A man may make a great success of a ten-thousand-dollar retail business, or a half-million-dollar wholesale establishment or factory, and yet be unable to handle a billion-dollar corporation at all, just as a man may be a good mechanic, or local contractor, and not be able to design and build an automobile factory or a fifty-story skyscraper. We need to keep this distinction clearly in mind in thinking about the reform of business.

The little group of very big business men, with their associates, attorneys and press-agents, have been loudly asserting their own super-efficiency in creating prosperity for the country as well as for themselves. Their assertions were never generally questioned until about 5 years ago, but this depression has been raising very serious doubts in a number of minds. A great many people are wondering whether we cannot devise some better system, a fact which accounts for the popularity of the "New Deal," and the news value of other front page newspaper stuff, including the EPIC plan.

The showing made since 1929 is not flattering to our business leaders. They are undoubtedly clever and skillful in their own way, but the hard facts are that they have lost about a hundred thousand million dollars, and have indicated no idea at all about how to get it back again. They have not only led some twenty million people to a condition of hopeless poverty, and reduced many other millions from modest luxury to more or less respectable destitution, but they have even lost huge numbers of millions themselves. Any employee of theirs who made any such record would be fired with no debate at all, yet we are gravely assured that the only thing we can do in the emergency is to give these same bad managers perfect liberty of action. The national response seems to be "Oh, Yeah?"

Anyone acquainted with the CWA can have no doubt that highly competent workers can be found by Sinclair for all ordinary tasks. From stenographers and bookkeepers for inside work to skilled tradesmen, foremen and engineers, there is no lack of capable and experienced men. Two classes are especially notable. Men past forty-five, or even thirty-five, barred from new employment by an arbitrary age limit, are better skilled and steadier than they were twenty years earlier. At the other extreme hundreds of thousands of high-school and college graduates, young, active, alert, inexperienced, but capable of learning fast and of fitting into any organization, are to be had for the asking. Big business used to take the pick of the annual crop as apprentices, but has little use for them now. The ranks of the unemployed do include many who are lazy, shiftless and dumb, but a large proportion of even these are perfectly willing and able to do good work when they are "regimented," that is when somebody tells them what to do, sees that they do it, and provides for their needs. They lack initiative, but they do not lack capacity to work.

The only problem is in regard to the general management. Good speakers and politicians are not always good executives. The encouraging fact is that the United States has always been able to develop competent men for new tasks when they were needed. It may prove that the tasks will be more practical when the object is to manage as well as possible.

EDITOR Fred Sullins issues a warning to Senator Pat Harrison.

Listen: "A kindly tip to Senator Pat Harrison—Get out on the stump . . . Make speeches. . . . Unless the signs of the times are wrong in our reading, Pat, your seat in the Senate is none too secure."

"You are a national figure, Pat, but your job still depends on the home folks."

Frederick, the irrepressible, frightened by the past performance of Senator-elect Bibbo, should by no means allow himself to wander into a maze of thinking. . . . For there is not another man in Mississippi who has the Bibbo vote appeal.

Meanwhile, here is a hope that Senator Harrison will not subordinate moral principles in the means for the sake of facilitating an end or purpose.

We grant you that the clear-thinking Fred thinks clearly when he asserts that if Senator Harrison should mix more with his fellows, get out on the stump and halloo politics for the sake of expediency he might strengthen himself somewhat with folk at home.

Howbeit, we'd think less of him if he did. A man guided by expediency is unworthy of one's esteem.

Senator Harrison is needed most at Washington. May he be guided by those principles of statesmanship to which he has hitherto rigidly adhered. In which event we feel certain that the tens of thousands of his countrymen will remain loyal. The battleline needs Senator Harrison and not the home guards.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

SUGGESTION FOR GAS.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 22, 1934

Editor Sea Coast Echo: I read your editorial in a recent issue of your good paper on gas for Bay St. Louis. This of course interests every property holder and resident in your good city as well as every merchant because it is the one and greatest draw back to the summer resident as well as to the commuters who would like to live in your good town.

Just why gas is not supplied to this town is a mystery when it is procurable across the Bay.

Are the oil interests responsible? Or, is it due to the fact that the state collects an oil tax?

However, here is a suggestion: Let's determine what the cost of piping the gas across the Bay would be then let each prospective consumer subscribe his pro rata of that amount and pay it monthly from his gas bill. In that way the gas company would not be putting out any capital and the consumer would not be put to any expense whatever except to pay in advance for the gas he would consume.

Yours Very Truly,
J. S. de BEN,

MOTORISTS' PARADISE.

Bay St. Louis, Miss., Sept. 20, 1934

The Editor, Sea Coast Echo.

Dear Sir:—Would it be amiss to request "the powers to be," when mapping out this winter's Relief program, to consider the creation of forming a "detour" for the famous sea-wall driveway on North Beach Boulevard, by opening up Julia street, from Dunbar avenue, clean through the cement driveway, near to the Kellar wharf? As it stands today, the Boulevard ends in an elegant cul-de-sac, and motorists and pedestrians feel disappointed, having to reverse and return the one-way they came. If this extension and connection were completed, it would add to the joy of motoring, or perambulating by making a circular route would give useful work to the workers, and prove a permanent improvement to both city and county.

With The Movies And Film Folks.

THE Speed with which the news-camera men work was again demonstrated when pictures of the Morro Castle disaster reached Broadway screens only a few hours after the tragedy. The first pictures were taken from an airplane which circled the doomed vessel. Later shots showed rescues of exhausted swimmers from the pounding surf, the removal of seriously burned survivors to nearby hospitals, and arrival of dead seamen and passengers from lifeboats and ships which had picked them up from the water. Other shots were taken aboard the burning ship, showing the terrible devastation and ruin, the bucked rails, charred lifeboats and the bits of clothing scattered about the decks.

After many weeks of desperate and seemingly fruitless searching for a boy to play the part of a youthful David Copperfield, MGM believes the problem may be solved by using an American youth and "dubbing in" the voice of an English actor to give the character the right British inflection in voice.

"David Copperfield" was to have been begun some time ago but was delayed by casting problems. However, the cast now includes: Charles Laughton in the role of Macawber, Violet Kemble-Cooper as Jane Murdstone, and Marilyn Rivolden, 7-year-old actress, as Agnes Wickfield.

An exact replica of one of the railway tunnels leading into Manhattan has been constructed on the Fox lot to be used in filming "East River," formerly known as "Man Luck." It is all of paper mache.

"20 MILLION SWEET-HEARTS" REPLETE WITH SONG HITS

Warren and Dubin Write Music For Romantic Team Of Powell and Rogers

The old days when audiences left a theatre whistling and humming, will return when the first National picture, "Twenty Million Sweet-Hearts," is shown at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday.

Harry Warren and Al Dubin, who wrote the melodies for "42nd Street," "Gold Diggers of 1933" and music in "Footlight Parade," are responsible for the music and lyrics of "20 Million Sweethearts," supplying four new song hits.

The Four Mills Brothers, radio headliners, contribute a group of their favorite selections to the picture, as does the famous musical aggregation, Ted Fio Rito and his orchestra.

The Three Radio Rogues, famed from coast to coast for their perfect impersonations of radio notables, open the picture as their voices produce flawless imitations of several celebrities of the world of the ether waves.

Dick Powell, plus an elongated, waxed false mustache and a waiter's costume, starts his singing in the picture with the popular song, "The Man on the Flying Trapeze." The first part of the story discloses Dick as a singing waiter in a Hollywood cafe, and he carries out his part with all the gusto of the performers in Bob Perry's "Brass Band," one of the show pieces of the film colony.

A revised version of "The Last Roundup" is rendered by a quartette of Hebrew comics who, with novelty, name their selection, "The Last Wind Up."

One of the first shots of a large metropolitan radio station, when the course of the story first lands Dick there, affords a performance of the inimitable Mills Brothers as they render, "It Wasn't Told To Me—I Only Heard."

Ginger Rogers, as a radio performer, is heard as she sings "Out For No Good," the first Warren and Dubin music to be heard in the engaging picture. Ginger, formerly on the musical comedy stage, reveals a delightful singing voice.

The Four Mills Brothers, when they next appear, give a novelty rendition of the catchy tune, "How 'I I Do It?" which starts feet tapping in time.

Dick's following song, as the story unfolds, is "I'll String Along With You," another Warren and Dubin hit, although in the picture, it would appear that Allen Jenkins is the author.

"Fair and Warmer" is another song by the ace-team which is destined to hit the best-seller class of the music marts. Ted Fio Rito and orchestra, in their appearance as the musicians in a Long Island Inn, deliver a marvelous recording of the song hit.

Powell and Rogers Duet "What are Your Intentions?" is the fourth of the Warren and Dubin hits in the picture. When first heard, it is rendered by Ted Fio Rito's orchestra with Ted playing a piano solo. The trio of good-looking singers with the orchestra, The Three Debutantes, also give this song in their clever fashion.

Toward the end of the picture, when Dick is trying to make a comeback after proving a failure in his radio career, he sings "I'll String Along With You," later being accompanied by Ginger Rogers.

Ray Enright directed the picture from the screen play by Warren Duff and Harry Sauber.

PARENT TEACHER ASSN. ORGANIZED AT KILN, MISS.

On Friday, September 21, the parents and teachers of Kiln community met and organized a Parent Teacher Association.

Supt. L. Z. Sea called the meeting to order and stated its purpose. Supt. Seal and several interested patrons fostered the meeting.

Mrs. C. C. McDonald of Bay St. Louis, Miss., was present and explained in a pleasing and thorough manner the value of a Parent Teacher Association in bringing the patrons and teachers closer together for the benefit of the children.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. George Curet, president; Mrs. C. R. Burke, vice-president; Miss Thelma Fleming, secretary; and Miss Effie Nease, treasurer.

Mrs. Curet briefly discussed a play period for pre-school children as one of the projects which will be under the auspices of the P. T. A., and directed by Miss Bertha Brown, head of the home economics department of Kiln Vocational High School.

Personal calls are being made on prospective patrons by Mrs. Curet and Miss Brown to solicit contributions for material, which is to be used by the pre-school children during the play period.

The second meeting of the P. T. A. will be held at the school building Tuesday night, October 9, at 7:30 o'clock.

MISSISSIPPI NEEDS MORE CONCRETE ROADS

YOUR NERVES, YOUR CAR AND YOUR POCKETBOOK—

VOTE FOR CONCRETE HIGHWAYS

WHEN you drive on Concrete you relax. It's smooth but non-skid... swift but safe. Its sharply defined ribbon of light gray is clearly visible at night. The smashing rattles and bangs of rougher roadways are absent. Your car rolls on without wrack or strain or destructive shocks... more comfort, less cost.

Scientific tests show that driving on inferior surfaces costs as much as 2 cents a mile more than driving on concrete. You pay more for poor roads than for good roads.

Personal and General

ANNOUNCING ENGAGEMENT MISS LOIS de ARMAS. FORMER BAY RESIDENT.

New Orleans Sunday press carried pictures of Miss Lois de Armas, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. de Armas, former residents of Bay St. Louis for quite a number of years, the happy event to take place at no distant date. The groom-to-be is Mr. Frank B. Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Stewart, well-known and socially prominent residents of the Crescent City. Miss de Armas is one of three charming and lovely young daughters of our esteemed former townspeople.

MISS MARY ELBA MARSHALL JOINS NEWCOMB FACULTY.

Miss Mary Elba Marshall, young daughter of our townspeople, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Marshall, and a graduate this year of Newcomb, has joined the faculty of the college as assistant instructor in chemistry, quite a distinction to one so young. However, Miss Marshall graduated with more than ordinary honor and outstanding class distinction. Miss Marshall is in Bay St. Louis with her parents, having spent the summer here, and will shortly assume her duties. Bay St. Louis is justly proud of the achievements of this scholarly young lady.

MAKING TWO BLADES GROW WHERE ONLY ONE GREW BEFORE.

Within a comparatively short time the spacious yard surrounding the handsome new two-story dwelling of Mrs. P. Gaspard and Miss Geraldine Ames, has been turned from a waste of grass and weeds into a veritable garden of beauty and loveliness, reminding one of the well-known quotation from the poet, "a thing of beauty and joy forever."

This garden surrounding all sides of the house and out to the inner confines of the outer fence lines, was planned and planted by the ladies, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zerr, who reside with their relatives. Mr. Zerr since has given the place his personal and active attention, working among his plants and flowers day in and day out ever since and has been amply rewarded for his efforts.

It is hardly believable that a place of wilderness could have been converted into a place of floral beauty in so short a time. Plants blooming all summer and even until the late fall were intelligently selected, with the results flowers are blooming all the while.

Mr. Zerr has been complimented time and again on his success and well are they deserved. His work has been continuous and brought forth results, a contribution both to the neighborhood and "city" beautiful. Here is an example of diligence and its own reward.

In addition to the many plants a spacious and well-planned lawn with many walks of cemented surface add to the place. Of all the plants many were donated by kind and thoughtful friends. The success of this garden, evolved from nothing and in so short a time, should prove an incentive to others to profit by this example.

—"Billy" Bourgeois, Jr., attending Perkinston Junior College, was home for the week-end, delighted with his school and studies.

—Mr. I. V. Colly, Mississippi Gulf Coast passenger agent for the Louisville & Nashville R. R. Co., with headquarters at Biloxi, was called to the parental home at Lakeshore, Tuesday evening by a message announcing the death of his maternal aunt, Mrs. Johnson, who died subsequently to an operation at a New Orleans hospital the same day. GOV. CONNER ANNOUNCES REDUCTION IN STATE AD VALOREM TAX FOR YEAR

$1,000,000, "and despite the home-stead exemptions, reduced assessments, and the present reduction of three mills in the tax levy, we may estimate conservatively that with no radical change in general business conditions, we will close the present biennium in 1934 with a cash surplus of around $1,000,000."

"When this administration assumed control in January 1932, we found state warrants in default and appropriation obligations outstanding amounting to $7,486,760.87 and outstanding short-term current expenses notes maturing during the biennium amounting to $5,250,000. On January 1, 1932, the general fund of the state treasury showed a balance of $1326.27. The creditors of the state had not been fully paid for nearly two years, state bonds could not be sold, and state warrants were acceptable to no one. All these obligations have been discharged and the state credit fully restored."

Bonds Retired
The state's credit has been restored, property tax reductions realized, and bond maturities retired because the operating costs of the state government were reduced, the sales tax enacted, budget control and other business methods applied to state finances, our people have co-operated, and last but not least, the affairs of the state tax commission has been administered intelligently and efficiently."

The same corresponding savings in tax burdens in county and local governments could be effected through reforms possible in a constitution convention Governor Conner pointed out in continuance of his apparently victorious fight for the calling of a constitutional convention.

"After my election in 1931, but before my inauguration, I issued an appeal to all county and municipal boards, urging them to reform their budgets and through rigid economy to reduce their tax levies to the minimum, because I realized that upon the action of these local governmental units very largely depended substantial tax relief," said the governor. "Where these local officials have responded and co-operated, material tax relief has resulted."

"Quite naturally we are gratified by the progress that has been made, but I am satisfied neither with the temporary nature of these reforms nor with the amount of actual tax relief realized. It is to make these reforms permanent and to bring further and substantial relief through reduction in our governmental burdens that I have been advocating and shall continue to urge the convening of a constitutional convention."

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

ATTENTION! SCOUT SALUTE!

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands; one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Another Boy Scout meeting was officially opened. Dues were collected, patrol leaders' reports made, and the night's program stated.

On this night, Friday Sept. 21st, the Scouts gained knowledge that cannot be gained everyday. Mr. Roland Weston, President of the troop committee, gave an interesting and valuable talk on the Nature and Habits of Butterflies.

Mr. Weston's final word was greeted by countless questions concerning this class of insects. Obviously, everyone interested in our pollen-carrying friends.

The scouts were made another offer at this meeting. Mr. Weston offered a case of Coca-Cola to the patrol capturing the greatest variety of butterflies by November 1st.

This will add to the activity of the troop and it is another real test of patrol spirit.

Several new members were brought in this week and prospects are promising. Mark Smith, who has been away several months is now back in line. Mark is assistant patrol leader of the "Flying Eagles." Other former scouts are expected, also.

Another inter-patrol contest was introduced this week. An unknown number of points will be awarded to the boy who writes the most complete answer to "What is a Boy Scout?"

"On my honor I will do my best—to do my duty to God and to my Country, To obey the Scout Law. To help other people at all times. To keep myself physically strong, Mentally awake, and morally straight."

Thus, another meeting of Troop 208 is brought to an end.
—GEOFFREY BOURGEOIS.

THE BOY SCOUTS "IF."

If you can rise with the sun each morning,
And take an early ice cold swim,
And play a game before eating breakfast,
To give you 'pep' and appetite and vim.

If you can do a "good turn daily," Accepting only thanks—refusing pay,
And silently dream of your great tomorrow,
And how you'll climb the hills on life's highway

If you can keep your honor always shining As bright as God's silent stars above,
And always "be prepared" to help others,

And fight for the country that you love.

If you are always loyal to your Maker And all whom loyalty is due,
If you want to prepare for your future,
By learning now to paddle your own canoe.

If you can lead for other than for glory;
If you can teach for other than for pay,
And be a friend to he who has no other,
And force a smile when all the skies are gray.

If you can make a fire without matches, Then cook a meal without pot or pan;
And pack within a scant few minutes And leave the site for others—spick span.

If you can do the things the other fellow doesn't,
And do them for the common good, Then you're exactly what I'll call you A member of the Boy Scout Brotherhood.
